“The Gift Exchange”

Author and illustrator Carol Willard, along with her daughter, Marla Hart, shared “The Gift Exchange” story with our mentors and students on November 8. The story goes right along with what mentoring works to achieve—building each other up....helping each other find our gifts, strengths, and talents. Thank you Carol and Marla!

As the new year approaches, please consider mentoring if you are not currently a mentor! We have many students waiting who could really benefit from your time and attention. An hour a week can go a long way!
